The Future of Europe
December 2 & 3, 2011
UNC-Chapel Hill School of Government
With generous support from the UNC Center for European Studies and the European Union Center for Excellence

Friday, December 2

11:30 – 12:15  Registration, Welcome, and Introductions
Welcome to the UNC School of Government. While you’re waiting for the seminar to start, please do the following:
  • Create a name tent for yourself. You can decorate it however you like, but please make sure to put your first name on both sides.
  • As your table fills up, please introduce yourselves to one another and share your entire life story – in one minute or less.

12:15 – 12:45  Lunch

12:45 – 2:00  Classroom Connections with the NC Civic Education Consortium

2:00 – 2:15  Break

2:15 – 3:45  Muslim Headscarves in European Public Schools: Freedom of Religion or Danger to Public Order?
Claudia Koonz, Professor and Peabody Chair at Duke University

3:45 – 4:00  Break

4:00 – 5:00  Classroom Connections with the NC Civic Education Consortium
Saturday, December 3

9:30 – 10:45  Classroom Connections with the NC Civic Education Consortium

10:45 – 11:30 Overview of Resources from the UNC Center for European Studies

11:30 – 12:30 Lunch

12:30 - 1:45 Classroom Connections with the NC Civic Education Consortium

2:00 – 2:30 Break

Please note our room change to 2603 for the remainder of the seminar.

2:30 – 3:00 Registration for the Future of Europe Seminar
   When you arrive, you do not need to check in at the Humanities Program registration table.

3:00 – 3:15 Welcome and Introductions
   Dr. Eve Duffy, Director of the Program in the Humanities and Human Values

3:15 – 4:15 Drifting Apart: Transatlantic Divides
   Konrad H. Jarausch, Lurcy Professor of European Civilization

4:15 – 4:35 Break

4:35 – 5:35 Economic Challenges for the European Union
   Stanley W. Black III, Lurcy Professor of Economics, Emeritus

5:35 – 6:30 Whither Europe?
   A Panel Discussion with Our Speakers

6:30 – 7:00 Reception

We are pleased to announce that The Bull’s Head Bookshop will be offering books for sale in the main lobby. Please be prepared to pay with check or credit card, as they are unable to accept cash. Thank you for your understanding.