Center for European Studies
European Union Center of Excellence

The Center for European Studies at UNC at Chapel Hill advances the understanding of the social, political, and economic events that shape contemporary Europe, in particular the European integration project. The Center offers an undergraduate major, an MA program and as a National Resource Center funded by the U.S. Department of Education, the Center develops original teaching materials for use in outreach programs with schools, business, and media organizations. The Center is one of 10 European Union Centers of Excellence funded by the European Commission and also runs the national network of E.U. Centers of Excellence.

World View, established in 1998 by The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, helps K-12 schools and community and four-year colleges prepare students to succeed in an interconnected, diverse, and multicultural world.

World View accomplishes this mission by helping educators:

- Develop a greater understanding of world regions, cultures, and global issues through professional learning opportunities and international travel.
- Integrate a global perspective into every subject area of the curriculum and at every grade level.
- Respond to rapid cultural and demographic changes in our classrooms and communities.
