ABOUT THE SPONSOR

The Center for European Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill advances the understanding of the social, political, and economic events that shape contemporary Europe, in particular the European integration project. CES offers an undergraduate major and an MA program. As a National Resource Center funded by the U.S. Department of Education, the Center develops original teaching materials for use in outreach programs with schools, business, and media organizations. CES is one of 10 European Union Centers of Excellence funded by the European Commission and also serves as the national coordinator for the EUCE network.
