

ACADEMIC FREEDOM DAY

UNC-Chapel Hill

NOVEMBER 8th, 5:30 - 7:00

Academic Freedom Under Attack: How do we respond?

Joan W. Scott, Professor Emerita of the School of Social Science, Institute for Advanced Study (Princeton), author of Knowledge, Power, and Academic Freedom.

NOVEMBER 9th, 9:30 - 1:45

Panels on threats to academic freedom.

2:00 PM

The Campus Origins of Today's Radical Right and the Crisis of Our Democracy

Nancy MacLean, William H. Chafe Professor of History and Public Policy, Duke University, author of Democracy in Chains: The Deep History of the Radical Right's Stealth Plan for America.

Lunch provided.

All talks and panels will be held at:
UNC-Chapel Hill Institute for the Arts & Humanities
Hyde Hall

Co-Sponsors: North Carolina Conference of the American Association of University Professors; Institute for the Arts & Humanities; Departments of Anthropology, Romance Studies, Religious Studies, Communication, Women's and Gender Studies, History, Sociology, Philosophy, Classics, English and Comparative Literature, Psychology and Neuroscience, Environmental Sciences and Engineering; Program in Latina/o Studies; Social and Economic Justice Minor; Working Group in Feminism and History; Center for European Studies, School of Media and Journalism, School of Global Public Health